Our experience with Steve was outstanding. After interviewing several agents, we chose Steve because of his professionalism and personable approach—and we're very glad we did.

He guided us through the entire selling process with patience and care (we are seniors aged 75+). He provided helpful advice from pricing to staging our home, and always remained calm and composed—qualities we truly appreciated during what can be a stressful time.

Our house was sold (technically) in just one day for a reasonable, acceptable price, which was a tremendous relief as we had already purchased and moved into a downsized condominium and were carrying two properties.

We can't say enough about Steve. We would be happy to serve as a reference and wish him continued success in his career.
